Geotextiles are permeable fabrics which, when used in association with soil, have the ability to separate, filter, reinforce, protect, or drain. Typically made from polypropylene or polyester, geotextile fabrics come in three basic forms: woven (resembling mail bag sacking), needle punched (resembling felt), or heat bonded (resembling ironed felt). ...

Geotextile - Wikipedia

Overview: Geotextiles are woven, matted or knitted products constructed from synthetic fibres which are not susceptible to biodegradation. Geotextiles are porous and accordingly allow liquid to flow across their manufactured planes and also within their thickness.

The California bearing ratio (CBR) is a penetration test for evaluation of the mechanical strength of natural ground, subgrades and base courses beneath new carriageway construction. It was developed by the California Department of Transportation before World War II.. The basic site test is performed by measuring the pressure required to penetrate soil or aggregate with a plunger of standard area.
