During my 20-plus years in the surety industry, I have been asked one question more than any other: "What is my bonding capacity and how is it determined?" Unfortunately, this simple question is the most difficult one for a surety agent to answer and merits a clear explanation. Bonding capacity is the maximum amount of surety credit a surety company will provide to a contractor.

Bulletproof glass (also known as ballistic glass, transparent armor, or bullet-resistant glass) is a type of strong but optically transparent material that is particularly resistant to being penetrated when struck. Like any material it is not completely impenetrable. It is usually made from a combination of two or more types of glass, one hard and one soft [citation needed].

This is truly a remarkable post Tony. I think this can be a good example of Rand's 10x content, and on the other hand, this can be also a good example of your "content is in the eye of the searcher, regardless of what the owner of that website thinks," because you got my attention as a marketer as well.
